HATCHET JOINS NEWSPAPER ASSOCIATION

ADMITTED TO I. N. A.

Score one for THE HATCHET!!!
And chalk it up, large for THE HATCHET has recently been admitted to membership in the Intercollegiate Newspaper Association of the Middle Atlantic States, as is testified by the new line in the Editorial head of the paper. THE HATCHET's petition was passed upon favorably by the Association at its spring convention, held May 7th, at Rutgers College, in New Brunswick, N. J.

The Intercollegiate Newspaper Association is an association of college newspapers in the Middle Atlantic States, whose purpose it is to "promote and further" journalism among the members of its organization. The Association syndicates articles among its members and the members themselves make free use of the articles printed in the papers of the rest.

There is no question but that THE HATCHET will be greatly benefitted by membership in this organization, and the Editor of THE HATCHET wishes to publicly express his thanks to Mr. Leon M. Pearson, Editor of The Phoenix, of Swarthmore College and ex-President of the Association, and to Mr. Charles Carswell, Editor of The Delaware College Review, for their kindness in advising him of the purposes of the Association and for helping THE HATCHET make good its quest for membership.

A full account of the Convention proceedings and a complete list of the members of the Association, together with a more detailed account of the workings of the Association will be printed in the next issue of THE HATCHET.

PROF. DOYLE TO TEACH AT CORNELL

Professor Henry Grattan Doyle will be in charge of Spanish in Cornell University Summer School this summer.

The following courses will be offered by Professor Doyle:

MASTERPIECES OF SPANISH LITERATURE.

SPANISH-AMERICAN LITERATURE

A study of the main currents of the poetry and prose of Spanish-America.

The courses at Cornell Summer School begin on Monday, July 5 and end on August 13.

Professor Doyle has recently had an article published in the May number of Hispania. The article is a copy of "Tumefaction," an address which he delivered before the Third Annual Meeting of the American Association of Teachers of Spanish, held in Washington last Fall.

SIGMA CHI WINS CUP.

Sigma Chi won the cup offered by Walter Brandes to the winner of a series of baseball games between the Sigs and Phi Sigma Kappa, by taking the second game last Sunday morning by a score of 19 to 14.

SPHINX ANNOUNCES SPRING ELECTIONS

The Sphinx Honor Society announces the election to its membership of Margaret Metzgeroth, C.C., '21; Elizabeth Earnest, C.C., '22, and Frances Park, Law., '21. There are two other vacancies which will be filled in the Fall.

The Sphinx eligibility rules are as follows: "The candidate must have passed fifteen hours towards an A.B. degree, must have a scholarship record of more than 20 above passing for the entire time since her entrance in G. W. U., and must actively participate in student activities." The methods of election are somewhat unique. Three lists are made, showing the relative standing of the candidates in scholarship, student activities, and as representative women of the University. The women having the highest total standings are automatically elected in proportion to the number of places to be filled. The membership is limited to seven.

The records of the women just elected are ones of achievement. Miss Metzgeroth has an A scholarship, has assisted with every Engineer supper the girls have prepared, has been quite active for three years in the W. U. C., of which she has just been elected president. In addition to these, she has been a good example of the right kind of college citizen. She has sold tags, tickets and tax cards, made posters, and been in regular attendance upon the University functions.

Miss Park, with a scholarship of B, has the distinction of being the first woman of the Law School to be elected to Sphinx. She is a member of the Women's Legal Club, of Columbian Debating Society, the University Debating Team, the Tennis Club, Columbian Women, the Law School Honor Committee, and has twice been an officer in her class.

Miss Earnest, with a scholarship of B plus, is a member of the Student Council, the Cherry Tree staff, the G. W. U. Players, the W. U. C., the Swimming Club, and is Girls' Tennis Manager. Last year Miss Earnest was cast for lead in a play, and was a member of the Tennis team.

The Sphinx initiation will be held Thursday, May 27th at 5:30 p. m. at the home of Beatrice Tait.

At the meeting on Saturday the following resolutions were adopted:

"Whereas, it has come to the attention of the Sphinx Honor Society that certain individuals and organizations of the George Washington University have been engaged in questionable methods of securing votes for various election candidates, and

Whereas, the Sphinx Honor Society believes that such scheming and electioneering are unfair and dishonorable, and therefore not to the best interests of the George Washington University;

BE IT RESOLVED:

1. That the Sphinx Honor Society does heartily condemn such practices.
2. That all women students obtaining honors in such manner will be considered ineligible to membership in the Sphinx Honor Society hereafter.

BOARD OF MANAGERS APPOINTED

The Board of Managers of Student Activities, which is to supervise and direct all student activities, has been appointed for next year, according to announcement made to a HATCHET reporter last Tuesday. The Director of Activities, it is understood, has not yet been appointed, but will be chosen within a short time.

This Board will meet next Monday the 24th, under the temporary Chairmanship of Mr. Halsey, to consider and transact such business as may be necessary at this time.

COUNCIL OPPOSES ELECTIONEERING—SETS ELIGIBILITY FOR CAPTAINS.

The Student Council, at its last meeting, on Wednesday, May 12, passed two motions which are hereby brought to the notice of the student body. The motions are as follows:

"Moved, that the Student Council go on record as being opposed to electioneering and the circulation of propaganda of any form for electioneering purposes.

CORRECT JUNE WEEK SCHEDULE PRINTED

June Week, although by no means a totally new creation in college social activities, is being introduced for the first time in George Washington. It has been said that a greater amount of energy is required to put a thing into motion than to keep it going once it is started. This is uniquely applicable to June Week; for it is a new custom at George Washington, one that if successful will be of incalculable satisfaction and benefit to the students of the University, and to get it started will require the universal support of the student body.

This is not an endeavor to be participated in by Senior alone while Juniors, Sophomores and Freshmen stand indifferent on the side lines, but is one to which the University as a whole should give its heartiest active support. A real personal interest in June Week by every student will produce the sort of active support that the success of this undertaking demands.

Let every student be present at the several functions that have been arranged and the success of June Week will be realized. The following program of functions has been arranged:

Saturday, May 29.....	Senior Play
Sunday, May 30.....	Baccalaureate Sermon
Monday, May 31.....	Commencement
Tuesday, June 1.....	Senior Prom
Wednesday, June 2.....	Reception

CHERRY TREE READY SOON

The Cherry Tree will be ready for distribution sometime during the week of May 24. The exact date of the arrival of the year books is not certain, but as soon as it is, officially known posters will be placed around in the different buildings of the University. In each building will be a member of the staff with the copies to be distributed. All those who were not taxpayers will be notified that their copy is ready and will be forwarded to them on receipt of the subscription price. Only tax-payers who present their tax stubs will receive their book. All those who have lost their tax stubs should see Professor Halsey and request him to give them a duplicate slip, so that they may receive their Cherry Tree without making any further payment. Professor Halsey may be found at 5 o'clock in the rear of 2027 G street.

Phi Beta Phi received their space in this year's annual free, having won the prize offered by the Business Staff of the Cherry Tree for obtaining the most subscriptions. The Business Staff expressed its appreciation of the good work done by the members of Phi Beta Phi in awarding the prize to this organization.

TENNIS TEAM CLAIMS S. A. HONORS.

George Washington's Tennis Team claims the honors of South Atlantic Inter-collegiate championship. This is an honor of considerable importance and the University seems entirely justified in claiming it for her own. George Washington's tennis team has been defeated but once in the intercollegiate matches this season, that being by the University of Virginia.

As far as is known, there is no other college in the South Atlantic States whose tennis team has made a similar record. The Buff and Blue has had a succession of triumphs in tennis this year that has exceeded the fondest hopes, and there could be no more appropriate ending of the season than with the universal acknowledgement of the University as South Atlantic Inter-collegiate tennis champion.

A. L. A. SEEKS FUNDS

Do you remember the American Library Association and its work during the war?

Do you recall that when you were tired and wanted something to read the Library Association met your wants? It made no difference whether you were in a camp in the "States" or whether you were overseas. It also was of no consequence whether you wanted the latest fiction or whether you wanted some of Irvin Cobb's humor or a history of the various peoples and nations in the war, the American Library Association had just what you wanted.

This organization functioned efficiently. The war is over, actually if not technically, but the need for the work of this organization continues.

For example, the war created a merchant marine and thousands of ships are now going to the ports of the world all flying the Stars and Stripes and all manned by American boys. When not at work these boys want to read. Therefore the American Library Association is undertaking to place libraries on all ships, likewise at all principal American and foreign ports so that any sailor anywhere may borrow the particular book he wishes to read and study.

Not only is help planned for sailors, but for those unfortunates who lost their sight by the war or through other causes.

There are 75,000 blind in the United States, including soldiers and sailors. When these blinded soldiers returned from the field of battle they were taught

NOTICE FOR GIRLS TENNIS

At a meeting of the Tennis Club, held Thursday, it was decided that the girls who are playing in the Tennis Tournament will play off their last matches during the week after examinations.

The girls are asked to give their phone numbers to either the manager or the assistant managers, so that they can be notified of the time that they are to play. It is hoped that all the sets will be played off by Wednesday, June 2, so that the cup may be awarded by Saturday, June 5.

"TAILS UP—MAKE JUNE WEEK A SUCCESS."

By DET MARTINSON

"Tails up—Make June Week a Success" is the slogan adopted by the Senior Class of the University in its whole-hearted and splendid effort to 'make a name for the University and pave the way for an added college spirit.' June Week promises to eclipse any and all previous similar enterprises, if judged by the unanimity of spirit and great enthusiasm shown by the entire body of Seniors.

The plans for the "Week" include a Senior Play, a Prom, and a BIG Senior Party, and the Class hopes by its activities to create interest and enthusiasm and boost college spirit, not only among the present student body, but also among the many alumni of George Washington. The Senior Play is being rehearsed, and work on the Prom is being carried on by a spirited committee.

Every one is working toward the fulfillment of the dream of every college student, a Greater George Washington, and indications point out that this move to establish a June Week will do much to further the reality of that dream. Fraternities are entering enthusiastically into the spirit of the thing, two fraternities have laid a wager as to which will have the most fantastically decorated box, one has published the statement that it will have the biggest delegation present, and all are being thoroughly canvassed by representatives of the committee with a view to swelling the attendance of the Prom from one hundred and twenty-five couples to two hundred. Just imagine it! Four hundred people at the Prom! You can't afford to miss it, and if you have the right spirit, the spirit that says the best is none too good for the University, you will be there, and SHE will reward you amply when at the close of the evening she tells you.

"Oh, Bill, I've had such a good time," and lets you and I indulge in one of those precious eternities of silence for a further reward.

HAVE YOU BOUGHT A TICKET TO THE PROM? Don't say "NO," flash the ticket on the solicitor or on any one who asks you. Your ticket will be your passport to that heaven where are joined all those loyal spirits who have striven to make our college the best there is, and without reservation. BUY ONE NOW!

The last University function of the year. Blow yourself to the affair and have something to remember, something that smacks of real college life. Each class will have a box, and you can meet all your friends there. You can't afford to miss it!

"TAILS UP—MAKE JUNE WEEK A SUCCESS."

Harold E. Rhame, of the Editorial Staff of THE HATCHET acted as Editor-in-Chief last week and should have credit for putting out that edition of the paper.

And what is so rare as the program for June Week.

Take your "pick" to the June Week picnic.

The Senior Class is putting the "seen" in its play.

We hope that the school will turn out strong to make June Week!

A news item reads: "Clerks co-operative stores, draw protests." "Grocers throughout country object to Attorney General's 'fair price list.'" Claim he is playing to the galleries. The grocer, say I, is a species of the pest that enjoys himself when everything is coming his way, and that's all. If the Attorney General is playing to the galleries in trying to reduce prices, go to it, Mr. Palmer for the galleries like it.

Dear Stupe:

Why are so many students always carrying around books?

Answer: The books know more about the exams than they do.

Dear Steve:

What good is a head to you?

Answer: It has the following uses: Keeps my collar from coming off; my spinal column from sticking out; serves as a hatrack, and is an intake for my stomach.

Dear Mr. Stephen:

I heard one of the older men at G. W. U. say he expected to get an O. I. degree this year. I can find no such degree listed, what can it be?

Answer: An O. I. degree is given each year to the Oldest Inhabitant.

Dear Stupe:

Who is the fair "fem" at school that occasionally blossoms out in the ging-ham dress?

Answer: Her name is Cally Ko, and she wears it because she keeps a dairy or diary—which is it?

"THE FEMALE OF THE SPECIES"

By LOIS MCDARIS, Law '22
 All the class is quiet.
 Save the women there—(Sounds just like a riot,
 'Cause of the ladies fair.)

One is rustling the Daily News.
 Another went out last night,
 And needs must tell them all her views
 On liking them "light or dark."

One little girl is O! So Sleepy!
 The dance must have lasted till two;
 Another has a cold and is weepy,
 And the last one is sick with the "flu."

The Prof tries in vain to quell them,
 They are such talkative things,
 But his efforts are futile to still them
 Until the recess bell rings.

Toward the end of the hour they tire,
 And try to find things to amuse,
 Until, all at once, the Prof so dire,
 With warning look, does accuse.

Then, taking revenge for their lack of attention,
 He calls on Miss Blank to recite;
 Well, it really is bad, but it needs to have mention,
 That Miss Blank is a wonder—quite!

She may powder her nose, or read from a book,
 Or write billet doux to her beau;
 She may or yearn for a cozy nook,
 But, believe me or not, 'tis so.

That when the Prof. calls on Miss Blank,
 Be she woman old or young,
 She digs down deep into her "Think Tank"

And recites 'till her praises are sung

"Now how can they do it?" the men all cry,
 "When they seem to pay no attention,
 Yet when called upon—then O, My!
 They surely get "honorable mention."

Well the answer's quite simple, take comfort, O Men,
 When you jealousy hear them score,
 They can do it once, and still again,
 For they're women! And nothing more!

BASEBALL REPORT

John G. Ladd, Manager of Baseball, has submitted a report of the expenses incurred and the income, to the Student Council. It is reprinted here for the benefit of those students who contributed money to defray the team's expenses.

Dear Mr. Hanson:

I beg to submit the following report for the baseball season of 1920. There is yet to be played one more game, but as we are not involved in the financial end of the game, this report may be considered as final. The season in no respect has been a failure; in fact, it has been a complete success. I feel sure that the re-establishment of the sport has been insured.

Much credit is due Prof. J. F. McFall, of the Law School, who spent much of his valuable time in rounding into shape the available material. I may say that there are few men who would be willing to sacrifice so much time in helping an athletic team get together as has Prof. McFall. His work has been most helpful and appreciated.

I wish to thank you for your hearty co-operation and for making the team a possibility.

The present equipment of the team is as follows: Twelve suits, seven bats, one catcher's mask, one catcher's glove and eight baseballs.

The expenses of the team have been as follows:

to read a new uniform type. The Library Association in cooperation with other agencies, immediately began the task of having an adequate number of books produced in this type. Today there are less than 200 books open to our blinded soldiers. A greater production of these books is urgently demanded.

To accomplish these results and to help those who are neither blind nor at sea, the Library Association is launching a drive to obtain the modest sum of $2,000,000 from the entire Nation. This money will be used conservatively and carefully over a period of three years.

Boxes for contributions for this fund marked "Books for Everybody" have been placed in the library at 2023 G street in the hallway near the elevators at the Law School, and on the bulletin board in the Medical School.

Columbia Alpha and Maryland Alpha Chapters of Pi Beta Phi Fraternity celebrated Founders' Day with a banquet at Franklin Square Hotel on May 8. A great many other chapters were represented. Mrs. R. D. Duncan presided as toastmistress. Miss Ella Gardner sang several selections, and Miss Florence Berryman gave piano selections. A most interesting address was given by Miss Mabel Scott, recently returned from France. All the girls took part in singing Pi Phi songs, Miss Martha Waring accompanying. The banquet closed with the singing of the Pi Beta Phi anthem.

Miss Elizabeth Schaaff spent the week-end of May 1st at Princeton University.

Miss Cornelia Clarke spent the week-end at Annapolis.

Pi Beta Phi entertained several guests for luncheon in the Fraternity rooms on May 14. They were Mrs. Newton, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Ayres, Mrs. Lazaro, Mrs. Mitchell and Mrs. Turner.

Columbia Alpha Chapter of Pi Beta Phi Fraternity is giving a dance for the Seniors of the chapter on May 27 at the home of Miss Margaret Schoenfeldt. A breakfast will also be given in honor of the Seniors at Mrs. Brook's on Brookville road, May 31.

Miss Marjorie Gerry will sail for England with her mother on May 28, where she will spend the summer.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon held a banquet on Saturday, May 8, following the initiation of H. J. Campaign, R. M. Fr. C. E. Liden and G. W. Young. The committee on entertainment was composed of Frank Markriter and Wells Buckingham.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon will hold its final dance of the year on June 7th at the House. Music will be furnished by Louis Brown.

A farewell banquet to Samuel Bernstein, who is leaving for the University of California, will be given by Phi Alpha at the Monmouth Hotel, June 2.

The Gamma Eta Chapter of the Delta Tau Delta Fraternity held its annual Founders' Day Banquet at the University Club, on May 8th. Dr. Dan Borden, of the Medical School, acted as toastmaster at the ceremonies. Congressman James R. Mann, of Illinois, together with Congressmen Padgett and Purnell, addressed the banqueters.

The Common Case of Poor Lo.

When Lo, the Poor Indian, suddenly found
His blanket too short at one end
He sat down to think in a manner profound
Of a way the said shortage to mend.

He studied and fretted around quite a while,
Till of wrinkles he had quite a crop;
But at last he arose with a triumphant smile
And whacked a piece off the top.

Then with a sly nod of his crafty old head
He grunted and said, "Now me gottum,
Poor Lo go and gittum a needle and thread
And sew that piece on to the 'otto-n'!"

We laugh at poor Lo in our cynical way,
Yet I dare say he reasoned as well:
As those who expect frequent raises in pay
To keep up with the H. C. of I.

JUNIORS SPRING SPIFFY SPRING HOP

Who shall say that the Juniors cannot pull off the liveliest dance of the year? Of course they can! Ask any of 'em who were there last Wednesday. It was what you'd call some hop and then some. The jazziest of jazz was there in the form of B. B. S. music. All the corners and crevices were piled high with banks of dog wood and honeysuckle. The white and gold finish of the Lafayette ballroom was in harmony with the class colors, too—white, gold and red. Then there was confetti, ropes of it, and balloons of all colors. The juniors proved that they are not quite ready to be dignified seniors by their unabashed joy in playing with the balloons.

NAPOLEON TO JOSEPHINE.

(The colloquy which passed between Napoleon and Josephine at the time of their separation, as recorded by one who was there and heard it all.)

By MICHAEL MUSSMAN.

Napoleon:

Oh my lovely Josephine,
Greatest beauty ever seen,
In my heart there dwells for you most bounteous love;
In my moments of reflection
As I dwell in introspection
I feel my lot was lucky to have won this pretty dove.

You are Nature's pulchritude
And the Universe you've wooed
With your pleasing, teasing form of sylph-like shape,
And your azure eyes entrancing
Deep as seas and always dancing
Have enchanted me and have bound me with love enchanting tape.

And your skin of alabaster
Of complexion it is master,
Your cheeks resemble roses on the snow,
Your hair is wondrous raven,
And it's soft and fine and wavin'
Like a crown upon Diana it does show.

And your handsome disposition
Makes you ne'er an imposition.
'Tis a joy, an excellent pleasure to be in your company.
You have wit and understanding
And you never come demanding Things that can't be undertaken by either you or me.

Josephine:

Oh, my husband, Emperor,
Please don't flatter any more,
I have a premonition that some evil
news you'd break,
And you preface the misfortune
With words of honeyed portion Like sweets are given children so that pills, they'll easily take.

Please don't let me wait unduly,
Let me know my Fate surely,
For each moment's indecision makes it desperate hard to bear.
A criminal waiting sentence
Is in agony and in penance,
For the doubt is oft more poignant than the verdict rendered there.

Napoleon:

Then the truth it will be known,
Though the telling make me groan,
My sweet and loving wife we must divorce.

Josephine:

Holy terror and perdition!

Why the cause for this transition?
Tell me quick why marriage bindings should separate by force.

Napoleon:

Then please list to this indictment,
It will give you enough enlightenment
As to why my married partner you can be or never more.
Though your beauty is entrancing
And your wit goes never falling,
Your cooking is deficient and it's made my stomach sore.

As a cook you've no discretion
And I've gotten indigestion
With your reavy leaden biscuits and your bread that weighs a ton;
To fry meat you never learnt it,
And the ham you always burnt it,
And I've often gone a-hungry not to eat a home-made bun.

When you tried to cook spaghetti
Always something you'd forget,
And it tasted like a bunch of fishing lines;
The baked beans were never baked.
'Twas not strange my stomach ached,
And you'd always serve the pumpkins with their trailing, hanging vines.

When to table some liver you'd cart
I'd eat but the Bona parte,
And to eat your onions made me crazy
as a lummock,
And these ceaseless inner aches
Bent me over like mud cakes,
'Tis no wonder people say Napoleon travels on his stomach.

And this ceaseless sinner groaning
Keeps my hand on my abdomen;
You can see it in each picture that was ever made of me.
So good-bye my Josephine,
You have surely ruined my spleen,
How I've managed to keep living is a certain mystery.

Josephine:

Oh Napoleon Bonaparte,
Wonderful man that thou art,
I've lost you and an empire 'cause I never learnt to cook;
Let this be a good example
To young girls who know ample
Of dressing and of powdering, but culinary art forsook.
